Walking with Jesus

Jesus said, "Go and make disciples of all nations," but many who profess to follow Christ have a poor understanding of what it really means to be a disciple.

"Walking with Jesus" consists of a series of lessons, each one focusing on a specific topic of importance to the believer in Christ. As these lessons are shared and put into practice, the reality and treasure of discipleship will become evident in the lives of the participating believers.

Designed to be read out to a group by a pastor or leader, this course actively encourages participation by sharing thought-provoking questions and discussion points that helps the group to begin thinking and growing together.

This course can be easily adapted to small group study or personal use.

The materials have been written and prepared to meet the specific needs of believers in Africa.

The authors have written with the understanding that some of those participating may not have access to a Bible and that some may not be fully literate.
